FROM NORTHERN MENDOCINO

NEWSY LETTERS FROM ROUND VALLEY

What Our Neighbors are Doing and Saying.

COVELO, May 4.—To see our farmers come into town with their faces all wreathed in smiles would impress a stranger with the idea that something very much out of the ordinary had happened; a new baby in the family, perhaps; or a favorite dog come home after being given up as lost; or possibly a rich old aunt had died and left a rich legacy of $30; or it may be that his mother-in-law had started on a tour around the world to be gone indefinitely. All wrong. It was caused from its having rained.

It began raining here last Sunday and continued intermittently for 3 days—not too hard but just so the thirsty earth could drink it as it fell We cannot tell what the next two montns have in store for us, but it is hard to see how conditions for a bountiful harvest could be more favorable than they are at present.

Mr. Ves Palmer has leased his farm to Mr. Nicholson for a term of years and moved with his family to Weaver, where he will engage in mining.

Our merchants are receiving an occasional load of goods, but will not get in their spring stocks until the roads are better.

One Sam Potter, a half-breed, who had imbibed a little too much "Covelo varnish," went to the house of Martha Fulwider, an Indian woman, who lives on the reservation and started into the house. She warned him to stay out, he persisted, she closed the door and he kicked it down. She then brought her artillery into action in the shape of a 38 calibre pistol. The first shot missed him and struck his horse which stood at the door. The second hit him half way between the knee and hip which ended the battle. Dr. Liftchlld has been prospecting for the bullet but failed to locate it.

The wound is not dangerous; but before he pays this burg another visit, he will have had time to meditate on the uncertainty of things in general, and some things in particular, among which might be mentioned the probable course of a bullet shot by the hand of a woman, his own carcass being the target. JOHN.

Round valley is beyond a doubt the paradise of Mendocino county. She stands today, dressed in her luxuriant growth of grain and flowers surrounded by cattle on an hundred hills. Her broad fertile acres are only half tilled, and the ranges half stocked, owing to the inconvenient mode of transportation. We hail with joy the approaching railroad, and live in hopes of a branch line being built to the great coal field then on into Covelo, which is only about 6 miles on north.

The timely rains are another manifestation that God is in Heaven and Round valley will show her appreciation of it this fall by great shocks of golden grain and numberless fat herds of swine and kine.

This part of the county is much in need of a Union High School. The public schools are excellent, but there is a growing desire for higher education, which can be obtained only in the high schools.

Leach Lake mountain, which is only about ten miles north of here, is covered with beautiful white snow.

Frank Hauck is glad to announce to his many friends that Mrs. Hauck presented him with a fine young Dewey of nine and one half potnds on May 1st.

The Masons have disposed of their property here, and are to erect a fine two story brick. It will be a useful ornament for it is to contain a large store and town hall.

Amos Dennis was in from Buck mountain the first of the week.

Prof. Scott is going to attend the Odd Fellows' meeting in the metropolis, and expects to shake hands with the President.

Covelo is to have a free reading room. This is another step in the right direction, and should be supported by all lovers of humanity.

C. M. Brown resumed his work the 1st inst. as chief mechanic of the Government saw mill.

O. Pearson, the blacksmith, and stockman, went to Ukiah with a drove of hogs last week. X.Y.Z.

TEN HOURS A DAY'S WORK AT GUALALA

GUALALA, May 8, 1901.

EDITOR DISPATCH: No doubt you will be surprised when you see this heading, but we know it will be an agreeable one to you. We as a body of laborers thank you for what you did in the past as our representative for labor, and appreciate what you have done in the columns of THE DISPATCH in behalf of our cause. We know that you fought for the Ten Hour Law in the legislature for six years, and passed it in the Assembly every time. That it never became a law on the statutes was no fault of yours.

We have the Ten Hour system now and owe it to ourselves. Here's how it was accomplished. The boys talked the matter over quietly for some time and decided to call a meeting on May 2nd. A large crowd met in the hall, and S. E. Blevins called the meeting to order and stated its object and said:" What are we going to do?" "Have Ten Hours or quit work" was the quick response from a hundred throats. A committee was appointed to wait on the foreman, Charley Knight, and tell him our decision, and that we would give the company 24 hours in which to decide the matter. The meeting then adjourned and all the talk next day was about the coming strike, for we never thot Mr. Heywood would accede to our request.

Imagine our surprise next day when we saw Mr. Heywood tacking up the following notice in the mill: "On and after May 4th, work will begin at 6:30 A. M.—one hour allowed for noon—and work will conclude at 5:30 P. M." The old gentleman was given three hearty cheers and has the good will of every laborer on the Gualala.

Yesterday we worked ten hours and did as much work as we had heretofore done in 12 hours. There are old gray headed men in this camp that have advocated the Ten Hour system ever since they were boys. And by united action we got it this week in just 24 hours.

Mendocino mill is also running ten hours. The others are running eleven. If these laborers had any independence they would do as the Gualala and Mendocino boys did. We believe in "equal rights to all and special privileges to none". The boys at Fort Bragg, Caspar and Greenwood have the same right to ten hours that we have, and they can get it if they only had enough sand to say the word.

We thank Mr. Ford of Mendocino for being the first to recognize the rights of labor in this matter. We also thank Mr. Heywood for the kindly manner in which he received us and for his determination to call ten hours a day's work. He will never have cause to regret it. We send greeting, as a crew, to the Mendocino crew and admire the manner in which they asserted their rights. It's to be deplored that the boys at Fort Bragg and Caspar didn't hold out. Mr. Drew at Greenwood was only waiting their decision. A few weak-kneed creatures ruined the whole thing. Laborers must stand together.

Gualala has the name of being a chinese hole. Yes, there are a few chinese here, but they work only 10 hours, while white men at Caspar and Fort Bragg, on the account of a few weak hirelings, are compelled to labor 11 hours.

We have resolved that President Heywood and foreman Knight shall never have cause to regret their action in treating us like civilized beings. MURPHY.

Ukiah's School Census.

The school census of Ukiah District has been completed. There are children (all white) between the ages of 5 and 17 years as follows: Boys, 301; girls, 290; total, 591. 589 attended the public schools during the year, 3 attended private schools, and 8 attended no school. There are 159 children under 5 years old, making 750 under 17 years. Of these only one is foreign born. This last is rather a remarkable showing and we doubt if there is another town of equal population in California can show a parallel. Another notable feature of the report is in the attendance. Only 8 children failed to attend any school during the year, and as they are not allowed to attend under 6 years this small number is easily accounted for.

From some 20 districts in the county reports have not yet reached the Superintendent The DISPATCH will give the totals for the county as soon as they are all in.

Mrs. J. H. Smith visited San Rafael this week to participate in the outing given the boys of the military school by the principal. Pres. Foster of the C. & N. Ry., furnished a boat, Prof. Cordy the lunch and a day was spent on the bay taking in the sights. The boys enjoyed the outing very much. Claire Smith, Lawson Moore, and Geo. Porterfield were among the numbe.

Will York and Frank Wilson purchased Fred Sholl's tobacco and fruit store and paper route this week. Mr Sholl has done a good business in the past and the new firm will surely do the same. THE DISPATCH wishes the new firm success.

The Santa Clara Fruit Association estimate this year's prune crop at ⅛ of what it was last year. The peach and pear output is estimated at ¼ of a crop. Probabilities are that prices will be fairly good.

J S. Ornbaun, a large stock raiser of Ornbaun valley, had business in town last Saturday.

J. H. Carothers went over to the coast last week to sell some property for the bank of Mendocino. He sold the old Haskett Severance place on Navarro ridge to Geo. Cameron -or $2,430 and 160 acres of stump land for $65.

Oscar Smith was up from Santa Rosa last Sunday.

GENERAL NEWS OF THE WEEK

Summary of What has Just Occurred. Accidents and Incidents.

The Debate To-Night.

To-night the Mendocino High School and the Ukiah High School have their debate at Mason's hall. The subject is, "Resolved that the retention of the Philippine Islands is in direct line with the best policy of our government." Mendocino has the affirmative and Ukiah the negative. L. H. Caughey, Harry Wyckoff and Miss Clara Westerman will represent Ukiah, while Miss Kittie Cooney, Louis Gonsalves and Leland Milliken will support the honor of Mendocino.

Accident at Dehaven.

Miss May Adams, the teacher of the Dehaven school, fell from the upper porch of Mr. Gordon's house a few days ago, paralyzing the lower limbs. School was temporarily closed until another teacher could be secured. Miss Ethel Stidson has been engaged to teach the remainder of the term.

DEMOCRATIC CELEBRATION

The Executive Committee of the Democratic Co. Committee has appointed the following gentlemen to represent that body at the semi-centennial celebration of the organization of the Democratic Party in California, at Benicia, on the 19th of May, this month.

The first Democratic Convention of California was held at Benicia on May 19, 1851. Thomas B. Henley, the father of the Henley Brothers of Round Valley, was Chairman of that Convention, and John Bigley was its nominee for Governor. The prominent Democrats of the state will be present at Benicia on that day and on the day succeeding, the State League of Iroquois will hold its Annual Convention.

Delegates of County Committee:

A. J. Lowell, Ed Cavanagh, Geo. Fee, Geo. Young, Thos. Rhodes, Geo. Aull, F. H. Vaughan, Frank Buckoltz, Pete Gibney, John Flanagan, F. A. Mahlman, E. C. Foushee, H. B. Hickey, J. S. Lilley, Wm. Dougherty, C. J. Buchanan, F. C. Drew, Jas. Walsh, J. C. Lane, Wm. Ketchum, A. D. Pitts, Geo. Purcell, A. R. Tarwater, Geo. H. Fratis, Geo. Brereton, T. M. McGough, J. J. McGimsey, D. H. Lawson, John Hiatt, Wm. Parsons, F. W. Dooley, Sam Duncan, Watt Bevans, E. V. Jones, W. T. Eddie, W. T. Saxon, D. L. Sawyers, O. Simonson, J. A. Joyce, L. Kenworthy, Theo. Fulwider, J. S. Hogshead, J. Wattenbarger, J. S. Rohrbough, G. R. Redwine, Chas. Hunt, Tom Long.

Delegates to Iroquois State League from Ukiah Iroquois Club:

J. H. Seawell, J. Q. White, E. G. Case, J. B. Sanford, T. J. Weldon, J. P. Cunningham, J. R. Thomas, H. B. Smith, T. J. Fine, Mack Howard, Zack Bartlett, A. P. Weger, E. B. Gibson. J. A. Jamison Jr., John Cunningham, Louis Hildreth.

J. C. Ruddock will attend as a Post Officer of State League and present Grand Orator.

Don't let the opportunity pass to hear Madame Marquardt in the Teachers' Concert. Seats at Sholls—50c. m10-2t

Discharged on Habeas Corpus.

Joseph West, who was committed for trial on a charge of having robbed a boy at Point Arena of $1, was discharged by Judge Mannon Wednesday on a writ of habeas corpus. The District Attorney stated that he could not consistently file an information, as he was satisfied there was not sufficient evidence. J. C. Ruddock appeared for West who is quite a young man. In such cases as this it would be well if the charges could be reduced to petit larceny or misdemeanor and tried in the justice courts.

An Incipient Blaze.

Last Saturday evening the alarm of fire startled the people on State street. The fire originated in Sam Kenyon's saloon and was supposed to have caught from a gasoline stove. The fire company responded quickly and soon had the fire extinguished. Kenyon's loss was very little. The building belonged to A. F. Redemeyer and is covered by insurance. His loss will not exceed $100. Lee Cunningham and Charley Southard while trying to put out the fire were temporarily overcome by the smoke and the gas fumes. Tom Lucas, Chief of the department, had his hand badly cut in several places by breaking thru a glass window.

The Bank of Mendocino.

On the third inst., Attorneys Seawell & Pemberton, acting for W. B. Coombs and twenty other clients, filed a petition in the Superior Court of this county, praying that the Directors of the Bank of Mendocino, and Albert Brown be required to account to the Court and produce the books and records of said bank, the amounts of the several deposits and all property undisposed of standing in the name of said "dissolved" corporation, that all of said property be impressed and and charged with a trust in favor of petitioners and other depositors pro rata and that a receiver be appointed to take charge of said property and reduce it to money and distribute the same to those entitled thereto. The petitioners represent deposits aggregating $25,789.18.

Death of Wm. Fulwider.

William Fulwider, who was brot from his home in Little Lake valley last week to be under the care of a physician, died Tuesday night. The remains were taken to his home Wednesday and the funeral took place yesterday, being largely attended by his numerous friends.

William Fulwider was one of California's pioneers, he having come to the state via Cape Horn in 1852, arriving in August of that year. After mining for some time in Trinity County he came to Mendocino in 1856, settling upon the land which was his home up to the time of his death. He married in 1860, nine children were the fruit of the union, five sons and four daughters. Deceased was born in Rockbridge County, Virginia, April 5th, 1832, and was therefore 69 years old. Up to a short time ago he was in robust health. He was a good citizen and will be missed in his community.

Special Rates to City.

We call special attetion to the advertisement of the California Northwestern Railway in this issue, relative to the special rates to and from San Francisco next week. Beginning Tuesday morning, the 14th inst, round trip tickets will be sold on all trains up to and including Saturday for one fare, or $4.50 from Ukiah and return. These tickets will be good for return trip up to and including Monday, May 20th.

Ukiah to Celebrate.

There is now a prospect that Ukiah will celebrate the coming 4th of July. A meeting was held last Monday evening to take some preliminary steps in that direction. Mayor T. L. Carothers presided and Captain Abe Marks was elected Secretary. The matter was discussed and a committee consisting of B. S. Hirsch, O. E. Williams and C. H. Kent was appointed to solicit funds. An active canvass should begin at once, with the vim and vigor said to be characteristic of Californians. Let the subscriptions be so liberal that a program of attractions can be arranged which will occupy the whole day and evening. Lets get a move on and show we are up to date.

THE SUPERVISORS

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it thru the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall,s Catarrh Cure contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle. Hall's Family pills are best.

GREENWOOD NEWS.

MAY 7, 1901.

During the long dry spell all the wells in this section became dry, my ink well as well, consequently you have not heard from "Jack" for some time; but owing to the recent heavy rain "Jack" is once more able to give you a few items of news.

Last Friday Eve Mrs. C. J. Buchanan extended an invitation to the members of the Native Daughter's Palor to meet at her residence, and surprise her daughter, Miss Mae, who was expected home from Garcia that eve, where she is engaged in teaching school. The party arrived at the house about 8:30 and Miss Mae was taken completely by surprise. The evening was spent in pleasant conversation and music, then all were invited to the dining room where a delicious lunch was served. Those present were Mrs. Pollard, Mrs. Reese, Mrs. Drew, Mrs. A. Scott, Mrs. Carlson. The Misses Tessie and Agnes Dougherty, Alice Walsh, Minnie Wells, Pearl Curtis, Mary Joseph, Mae and Flora Buchanan and Mrs. Buchanan.

The Forester's annual ball given last Saturday night in the Greenwood Hall was quite a success. I noticed that many lodges from near coast towns were represented. Mr. and Mrs. Neison, Miss Manda Grubb, Miss Neison, Mr. Palmer and Geo. Pursell were among the Point Arena people who attended.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nelson came down from Caspar to visit relatives and friends, and incidentally took in the ball.

Miss Kitty Cooney, who is attending Mendocino High School was down on a visit to her parents Saturday and Sunday. Miss Kitty is one of the debaters to be sent by professor Glidden to debate against the Ukiah High School debaters next week at Ukiah.

Impressive Memorial Services were held in N. S. G. W.'s Hall last Sunday at 2 P. M., by the Native Daughters. Fully five hundred lodges were doing likewise thruout the state, and altho Greenwood Parlor is the youngest organization it was not lacking in its respect for the dead sisters. The services were opened by a prayer by Mrs. Lelia Reese, followed by remarks by the president, Mrs. Allie Pollard. The oration was delivered by Miss Mae Buchanan, and Mrs. Drew read a sad but beautiful eulogy of the dead. It made one feel that

"Into each life some rain must fall
Some days must be dark and dreary."

A poem entitled "There is no Death" was read by Miss Tessie Dougherty followed by a violin and piano solo by Mr. and Mrs. Kingron. The services were closed, all present singing "Nearer My God to Thee."

The May Day exercises held in the primary department of the public school were quite a success, and well attended by the friends and parents of the children. The May Queen, Miss Flora Buchanan, looked very sweet in her robes of white and pink. Owing to the heavy rains the May pole dance and picnic were posponed indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O'Neil of Cuffeys Cove celebrated their wooden wedding today by giving a dinner to a few of their friends. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Donohue, Mr. and Mrs. Rafter, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Gilkison and Mr. and Mrs. James Agnew. JACK.

A Choice Residence.

We have for sale at a bargain a 10 room house and spacious lots in the most desirable residence part of Ukiah. Lots run entirely thru block. Good barn and other out-buildings. Fine well and city water. Complete sewer connections. Good shade and everything complete for a home. Price $2,200.

KIRTLEY & SANFORD, Agents.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuff, and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y.

The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation.

With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

Remember we carry the largest and most complete stock of Glassware and our prices are the lowest. Will sell you an elegant 6-piece Glass Set for 50c, a reduction of 25 per cent on the regular price. Other goods in proportion.

A Conundrum

SMITH MET JONES at C. Hofman's Corner and propounded the following conundrum, which Jones could not answer, but agreed that it was a good one when Smith explained:

Smith—Jones, why is a man with a $15 suit bought at C. Hofman's like the father of new twins?

Jones—I don't know, Smith; why is he like the father of new twins?

Smith—Because he's got twice as much as he expected.

Moral—Buy your suits at C. Hofman's and like the man with the twins, you will get more than you expected or bargained for.

We have, without exaggeration, the finest line of Spring Clothing ever shown in Ukiah, as an inspection of our stock will show. Give our Clothing a look before buying your Spring Suit.

Selecting School History.

The State Board of Education met last Monday to consider the matter of selecting a United States history to take the place of the history compiled by the State in the public schools. After discussion an informal vote was taken and the McMaster history received the highest vote with Channing second. This vote was not conclusive, but was merely a test of first impressions. It was decided to provide history text books for both primary and Grammar grades.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia, My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1. Trial bottle free at J. R. Mathews, City Pharmacy. Every bottle guaranteed.

The production of petroleum in California in 1899 was 2,677,875 barrels of 42½ gallons, valued at $2,660,793. The development of new fields greatly increased the output in 1900, but we have not the figures for that year.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at J. R. Mathews' City Pharmacy.

A frame ware house used for storage purposes in the rear of the store of Rosenburg & Bush at Healdsburg, and the sample room of the Union hotel, together with their contents, were destroyed by fire. The loss of Rosenburg & Bush is estimated at $5,500, insurance $1,500. The sample room loss was about $300.

Down They Go.

A reduction of 25 to 50 per cent on every style and size photo known to the art, made by Carpenter. And they don't fade.

I beg leave to announce that I have located in Ukiah for the purpose of teaching all string and brass instruments and tuning and repairing pianos. Having had an experiance of a number of years' I feel that I can satisfy the most critical of my ability to satisfactorily discharge the duties of my profession. Charges reasonable. Leave orders at the Grand Hotel.

Yours very truly,

Notice of Special Election

In the matter of the refunding of the outstanding County indebtedness of the County of Mendocino.

It appearing to the Board of Supervisors of the County of Mendocino, from the report of J. N. Rea, County Treasurer, that said county at present has a bonded indebtedness in the sum of $95,000, bearing interest as follows, to wit: The sum of $63,000 due July 1st, 1901, and bearing interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum; the sum of $3000 due July 1st, 1906, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum; the sum of $9,000, due July 1st, 1921, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum; and the sum of $20,000 due July 1st, 1902, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum.

And that there is a condition in each and every one of said bonds that they may be paid at any time at the option of the said County of Mendocino.

And it further appearing that there are not now, and will not be sufficient funds belonging to the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1901, to pay the said bonds in said sum of $63,000 falling due on July 1st, 1901; and it being represented to the said Board that if the whole of said bonded indebtedness of said County is refunded and reissued into proper and legal bonds, bearing interest at a rate not to exceed 4 per cent per annum, that said bonds so issued can be readily sold to buyers of bonds as provided by law at not less than the par value thereof.

It is therefore declared that the purposes for which a bonded indebtedness proposed to be incurred are first, to meet the payment of all of the bonds of said County, falling due in July, 1901, to wit: The sum of $63,000, and second, to raise sufficient funds to pay off all the remaining bonds of Mendocino County, being the aforementioned certain bonds in the sum of $32,000, in order to secure a lower rate of interest than is now being paid on the same.

The Board of Supervisors of Mendocino County therefore proposes to issue the bonds of said County in the sum of $95,000 in denominations of $500 for each bond, and each of said bonds to bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July in each year, during the term for which said bonds shall run—five of said bonds of $500.00 each, making the sum of $2500 in all, shall be paid each year on the first day of July, commencing July 1st, 1902, and all of said bonds shall be paid in 38 years from said July 1st, 1902, together with all interest thereon.

Notice is hereby given to the qualified electors of the County of Mendocino, State of California, that a special election is hereby called to be held in said County on the

at which time the qualified electors of said County may vote upon the question of the issue of said bonds as aforesaid.

The words to appear upon the ballots, used at said special election shall be "Bonds—Yes" "Bonds—No," and the voter shall stamp a cross opposite the word "yes" or "No," as he may desire to vote for or against said proposition.

None but qualified electors of the County of Mendocino shall be permitted to vote at said election, and it shall be held as nearly as practicable in confirmity with the general election law of the State of California.

Notice shall be given of such special election by publication of a copy of this notice in The DISPATCH-DEMOCRAT, a newspaper published in said County of Mendocino, once a week for four weeks prior to such special election.

It is further ordered that the following persons be and they are hereby appointed officers to conduct said special election, and that the polls shall be held at the following named places, to wit:

SAGE ON CARNEGIE.

Russell Sage, who is still active in Wall street at the age of 85, thinks Andrew Carnegie retired from business too soon.

"I don't believe in quitting business as Mr. Carnegie did. I am going to stay in harness to the end. The older a person gets the more valuable is his experience. I owe it to myself and to those connected with me in business to keep at work. I know Mr. Carnegie. I've met him a number of times. He's a nice man—a very nice man. But he's not a great man. He made a big fortune. Yes; he got in a fortunate business. He couldn't help making money. The growth and development of the country insured that."

As to Mr. Carnegie's gift of $5,000,000 to New York for a new system of libraries, Mr. Sage said: "Mr. Carnegie is very generous indeed. I commend him for his generosity. We all do. But"—and the great Wall street magnate winked slyly—"he might have made his charities a little less ostentatious. I believe in charity, you know, but—well, I think it ought to be done very quietly."—Argonaut.

A Caller at the White House.

An old white haired negro who was born in old Virginia and moved to Jackson, Miss., "four year befo' de war" was a caller at the White House the other day. He entered with the elaborate but more sincere politeness of a Frenchman. He bowed to every one and scraped about in the most courteous manner. He asked to see the president and announced that his name was Washington Baltimore. He said that he was here four years ago, and the white folks treated him so well that he had been saving up enough money in the intervening four years to come again. He was allowed to shake hands with the president. When he left the presence of the chief executive, he was overjoyed. "No, sir," he said. "I ain't gwine ter wash dem han's till I gits back ter Mississippi, kase I'm gwine ter show dem niggers dar just what han de president shuk."—Washington Letter.

A Shrewd Butcher.

The employment agency that deals with the most costly servants in New York is situated in an up town butcher shop which shows no outward indication of this phase of its work. It is patronized by the wealthiest New Yorkers, who engage their cooks there. As these cooks draw salaries ranging from $2,000 to $3,000, the engagement of one of them is a more or less important matter. No fees are paid by the servants or by the master, but nobody doubts that the proprietor makes his profit out of the arrangement. It is not to be thought that the grateful cook who received through his instrumentality employment that brings him several thousand dollars a year will forget the butcher shop over which this man presides, and he thus receives assurance of profitable custom.—New York Sun.

Hard Wood From Oregon.

As a specimen of Oregon hard wood a chunk three feet long and weighing 300 pounds will be found hard to beat at the Pan-American exposition. This log was brought down from the Cascade locks recently and given in charge of Henry E. Dosch, to be taken, with other specimens of Oregon woods, to Buffalo. How long ago it grew or the exact spot upon which it stood when a thrifty fir sapling will never be known, as it is now a solid rock, having been petrified centuries before Lewis and Clark struck the country. One end of the log will be sawed off to show the grain of the fir and to prove to the visitors at the exposition that it is solid clear through.—Portland Oregonian.

Schooner Pianos.

Everybody, says the Lewiston (Me.) Journal, has read of the splendid fittings and fine furnishings of the monster schooners built in Maine in the last three years. The six master George Wells, built at Camden last summer, has a grand piano in her cabin, and there is plenty of room for it too. Several five masters carry pianos, most of them uprights, and others have cabinet organs. Not many shipmasters know how to play, but their wives and daughters do, and it is to make the women contented at sea that the instruments are put in. Some of the largest ships and barks in long distance trades also carry pianos.

Coins in the Keel.

A superstition has manifested itself in connection with the building in Boston of Thomas W. Lawson's cup defender, the Independence. Yachting enthusiasts, just for luck, have thrown a considerable number of coins into the cavernous recess of the fin keel, where they will soon be covered by the molten lead ballast and where the workmen cannot fish them out.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

(Benson's Plaster is Pain's Master.)

In the days of 'wild cat' money in the West, the Ames shovels were used as currency. They were as stable as gold; their price did not vary a cent in twenty years. The very name of Oliver Ames & Son, was a synonym for honesty. It was current all over the world.

On the same principle Benson's Porous Plaster is the universal standard external remedy. To say it is a "good" plaster does not describe it; it is the best possible plaster. For every disease in which an external remedy is available, Benson's Plaster is used almost as a matter of course.

Benson's Plaster quickly relieves and cures where other modes of treatment are either exasperatingly slow or have no good effect whatever. Coughs, colds, lumbago, kidney trouble, rheumatism, lame back, etc., are at once benefited and soon cured.

Capsicum, Strengthening and Belladonna plasters have none of the curative virtues of Benson's. More than 5,000 physicians and druggists have commended Benson's Plaster as a remedy in which the public may have implicit confidence; while, in a comparative test with other plasters, Benson's has received fifty-five highest awards. Beware of substitutes and cheap imitations.

For sale by all druggists or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States on receipt of 25c. each.

Petition for Change of Names.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE COUNTY of Mendocino, State of California.

In the matter of the application of George W. Landers and Virginia P. Landers to have their names changed.

To the Honorable the Superior Court of the County of Mendocino, State of California: Your applicants state as follows:

That the present name of your applicants are George W. Landers and Virginia P. Landers, the wife of said George W. Landers.

That George W. Landers was born March 13th, 1870, in, the County of Kankakee, State of Illinois, and is now thirty-one years old. That his father's name was Henry B. Landers and his mother's name was Addie Landers.

That soon after said George W. Landers was born, his father died; and in the year 1876 his mother married one William H. Richardson.

That from 1876 to the present time said George W. Landers has been known by all his friends and associates by the name of George W. Richardson, and that his friends and associates all think his true name is George W. Richardson.

That the near relative of said George W. Landers is Mrs. Addie Richardson, his mother, who resides in Ukiah, California.

That your applicants were married in Ukiah February 10th, 1901, and are now husband and wife.

That said Virginia P. Landers was born November 7th, 1874, in the County of Tuscaloosa, State of Alabama, and is now twenty-six years old.

That the near relatives of Virginia P. Landers are John Snow, her father, and Lizzie F. Snow, her sister, and both living in Ukiah, California.

That since said marriage said Virginia P. Landers has been known by the name of Virginia P. Richardson.

That for the reason that George W. Landers is known by the name of George W. Richardson by all his friends and associates, and called by that name, he desires that his name may be changed from the name of George W. Landers to the name of George W. Richardson.

That for the reason that Virginia P. Landers is known by the name of Virginia P. Richardson, she desires that her name may be changed from the name of Virginia P. Landers to the name of Virginia P. Richardson.

And your applicants will ever pray.

Notice of Foreclosure Sale.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Savings Bank of Santa Rosa (a corporation) vs. Dennis Quinliven, et al.

Order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale.

Under and by virtue of an order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, issued out of the Superior Court of the County of Mendocino, State of California, on the 11th day of April, A. D. 1901, in the above entitled action, wherein Savings Bank of Santa Rosa (a corporation), the above named plaintiff, obtained a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale against Dennis Quinliven, defendant, on the 8th day of April, A. D. 1901, for the sum of Twenty-two hundred eighty-four and 65-100 ($2284.65) Dollars in United States Gold Coin, besides interest, costs and counsel fees amounting to one hundred and sixty ($160) dollars which said decree was, on the 8th day of April, A. D. 1901, recorded in Judgment Book 6 of said Court, at page ...., I am commanded to sell all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in the County of Mendocino, State of California, and bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Commencing in the center of the Russian River at the northeast corner of B. Marks and M. Newfield's land (formerly belonging to C. H. English), running thence west along north line of B. Marks' and M. Newfield's land 20.33 chains, thence north 23 chains to a post marked "A. G.," thence 20 chains to a post marked "A. J.," thence north 38.84 chains to a post marked "A. K.", thence east 35 chains to the center of Russian River, and thence down the channel of Russian River to place of beginning. Being lot 106 of Healey's survey of the Yokayo Rancho, containing one hundred and sixty acres, more or less. Excepting and reserving from the above, and the operation of this mortgage, that certain piece or parcel of land containing 46 99-100 acres conveyed by D. Quinliven by deed dated December 26th, 1882, to E. S. Chamberlin and recorded same date in Book 29 of Deeds, at page 285, Records of Mendocino County. Together with all and singular the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances hereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining.

Public notice is hereby given that on

Saturday, the 11th Day Of May

A. D. 1901, at 2 o'clock p. m. of that day in front of the Court House door of the County of Mendocino, I will, in obedience to said order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, sell the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said judgment, with interest and costs, etc., to the highest and best bidder, for gold coin of the United States.

Dated April 12th, 1901.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Sensible Method of Furnishing and Decorating Bedrooms.

People are becoming much more sensible about the furnishing and decorating of our sleeping apartments, says a well known authority. The laws of hygiene are gradually impressing themselves on our minds, and we find that we can combine health with artistic beauty without great difficulty.

Our great-grandmothers were very wise when they laid nothing but strips of carpet on the floors of their bedrooms. Of course the room looked bare; so much so that the succeeding generation flew to the opposite extreme. Every inch of the floor was carpeted, with probably an underlay. The carpet was firmly nailed down, where it remained until the annual housecleaning day came round.

The best method of treating the floor of a bedroom is to have it stained or painted all over, with the distribution of small rugs here and there and possibly a small drugget for the center of the room. It should be wiped with a damp cloth frequently, especially under the bed, where dust and dirt accumulate so quickly.

Iron and brass bedsteads have enjoyed a popularity of long duration, but it seems as if they will be superseded by wooden ones. These are certainly far more artistic, though many housewives cling to the iron bedsteads, declaring them to be the cleaner. Something new being offered for beds is the slumber curtain. It is a piece of art linen, embroidered in colors and hung by little rings to half a dozen hooks in the wall above the head of the bed. Why it should be called "slumber curtain" is a mystery unless the soft colors and the flowers are intended to soothe one to sleep.

Glycerin Should Be Diluted.

Many people use pure glycerin for the skin without knowing about its effect. If glycerin is applied to the tip of the tongue, although it has a pleasant, sweet taste, the first sensation that is felt is one of pain and burning.

This is caused by the fact that glycerin has a strong affinity for water and that it absorbs all the moisture from the surface which it touches, thus drying up and parching the nerves. Ignorant of this fact, nurses and mothers have applied pure glycerin to the chafed skin of infants, producing often great pain.

The glycerin ought to have been first mixed with an equal bulk of water. This being done, it may be applied to the most tender surfaces without producing injury and, as it does not dry up, virtually maintains the part in a constantly moist condition, excluding the air and promoting the healing process.

Defense Against Household Pests.

"Keep the house and surroundings clean, dry and aired if you want to keep out pests," writes Maria Parloa in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Do not keep kitchen garbage, wet cleaning cloths, dishcloths or towels in the house. Burn or otherwise dispose of the garbage; wash and dry all cleaning cloths every day. Keep cereals in tin, stone ware or glass receptacles; wood harbors insects. Fill all the cracks in the walls and floors. Wash floors, closets and drawers with carbolic water. If unwelcome visitors appear in any part of the house, use a strong solution of carbolic water for injecting into cracks and grooves—five ounces of water to one of carbolic crystals."

How Chinese Cook Rice.

The Chinese cook rice by first washing it thoroughly in cold water. The amount of water used should be sufficient to cover it and rise about an inch above it in the cooking vessel. Use cold water always, and let it come to a boil gradually. When it begins to boil hard, remove the vessel to the back part of the stove or where it may be kept steaming for about 15 minutes, when it will be sufficiently cooked. Put no salt in the rice or water while cooking. The allowance of time for cooking the rice should be 45 minutes—20 minutes for it to come to the boiling point and 25 minutes for steaming.

Vegetables In Fancy Designs.

Formerly it was a task that daunted the most energetic of housekeepers to undertake to serve potatoes or other vegetables cut into fancy designs, but now, by means of a new vegetable slicer—a device that looks like a toy washboard—she can turn out diamonds, squares and circles at short notice. Radishes, beets, carrots, turnips and bananas can also be cut into tempting shapes for either cooking or garnishing.

TYPICAL "BAD MEN."

Some of the Specimens That Were Met in the West.

A Scotchman in the far west, previously disappointed in not finding the typical "bad man," whom he supposed to be the common product of the country, says W. D. Lyman in The Atlantic, suddenly encountered his man on a steamboat. There he was, sure enough—ferocious mustaches, cowboy hat, fringed shapps, buckskin coat, gun in belt, vitriolic breath, and all strictly according to Bret Harte. Our Scotchman gazed upon this western type some time and at last ventured to interrogate him. The "bad man," as soon as he heard the Caledonian tones, leaned over confidentially and exclaimed, "Hoot, mon, I'm jas oot from Inverness!"

It was another Scotchman on a western steamboat who, seeing a man at the table distinguishing himself by his horrible voracity and greed, was remarking to his American neighbor: "There! Just look at that specimen of the west. We never see a thing like that in Scotland," when the "specimen" suddenly shouted, "Hi, waiter, hae ye ony mair fash?"

The writer was once told by a delightful man of Hartford about going into a hotel in a California town when a gigantic western ruffian stumped up to the register and on discovering his name thundered out, "Where is that man from Connecticut?" Our friend, though expecting that he would at least have to treat the crowd and probably get a shot through his hat, at last timidly acknowledged his identity, when the giant bore down on him, with a broad grin and extended hand, exclaiming: "Shake, pard! I'm from Connecticut myself."

Two Dogs and a Drowning Man.

The instinct of Newfoundland dogs to save a drowning person was somewhat painfully tested by an unlucky Frenchman. He was walking in the country with a friend who possessed a magnificent Newfoundland and incautiously questioned the truth of the animal's sagacity. The dog's master, vexed at the slur cast upon his favorite, gave his friend a push and knocked him into the shallow river. Turk immediately sprang in and, seizing one of the tails of the immersed man's coat, commenced to swim for land.

Unfortunately another Newfoundland, trotting along on the other side of the river, saw the affair and also came to the rescue. Dog No. 2 immediately seized the other tail of the coat and wished to swim back to his master. Turk held fast and struggled for his side, and the owner of the coat cried in vain for help. At last the coat gave way, and each dog swam proudly home with a piece of cloth in his mouth, so that Turk's master was forced to plunge in himself to save his friend.

A Reduction in The Hours of Labor

On May 1st, the mill companies on the coast reduced the number of hours that should constitute a day's work from 12 and 11½ hours to 11 and 10 hours per day. This concession to the rights of labor was undoubtedly brot about by the action of Mr. F. C. Drew of the Greenwood L. E. White company. When Mr. Drew first took charge of that plant, he made it known that he was going to treat his employes like human beings and that he was going to be labor's best friend. Before the Lunch Hour Law was passed, Mr. Drew voluntarily gave his employes an hour for lunch at noon and expressed himself as favorable to the ten hour system, if all the other companies would adopt it. This caused the employes to make a concerted move in the direction of reducing the number of hours of labor per day.

Accordingly committees of laboring men of the various mills asked audiences with the owners which was granted last week. Mr. Drew met his men in the Greenwood hall and addressed them at considerable length on the subject and told them that if the two competitive mills that run all the year—Fort Bragg and Caspar— would agree to the ten hour schedule he would gladly grant it; but on account of the difficulty of logging on Elk creek, he could not work ten hours unless Caspar and Fort Bragg would agree to the same. He, however, told the men he would reduce the time to 11 hours a day without waiting to see what the others did. The men accepted the offer and cheered Mr. Drew to the echo. Fort Bragg and Caspar have also now agreed to the 11 hour schedule, which, while it was not exactly what the employes wanted, is a long step in the right direction. Mr. Ford of the Mendocino company has granted his employes the ten hour schedule and it is also reported that Gualala has done like wise.

If the three companies that run all the year—Fort Bragg, Caspar and Greenwood—can get together and grant their employes the ten hour system, it will bring labor and capital closer together and prove beneficial to all parties concerned. Labor and capital should not be enemies. They both have their rights. The laboring men rightly claim that ten hours is long enough for one day's work. A great step has been made in the right direction. Let the good work go on. If Caspar and Fort Bragg will now meet Mr. Drew and grant the ten hour schedule, labor troubles on the coast will be a thing of the past from now on, and all differences between employer and employe will be happily adjusted. The ten hour system is bound to come, because it is right and right will prevail. Grant it and show labor that you will be fair, honest, just and right without waiting for the law to force you to do it.

As an evidence of increasing prosperity we cite the fact that the Geyserville Gazette is agitating for an additional hitching rack in the town it represents so faithfully.

The last legislature of Minnesota passed a law making wife desertion a felony punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary from one to three years, and requisitions are already out for the return of thirty deserting husbands to the state. Sentence may be suspended on the husband's giving a bond to the state to support his wife and family. The principle of the law is a good one.

The citizens and tax payers should give careful attention to the bond question to be voted on May 28th. Bonds to the amount of $65,000 fall due on July 1st. If the people refuse to issue bonds, the amount will have to be raised by an extra tax levy, which would make the rate of taxation at least 2½ per cent this year. It is a business proposition to vote for the bonds. The money can be secured at a much lower rate and paid off gradually, with but little extra burden to the tax payers.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Republican Press, devoted a large part of its editorial space last week to an attempt to convince its readers that the Cubans are not capable of conducting their own affairs and mnst therefore remain under the controll of a foreign government. Isn't it strange that the Congress of the United States didn't know that, or didn't think of it, when the world was officially notified by that body that Cuba "is, and of right ought to be, free and independent?" No argument that sophistry can devise will justify this government in going back on its pledges to the Cuban people.

Now that the President is "swinging round the circle" and preaching his doctrine of imperialism in the guise of expansion, it has caused the patriots of this republic to think over the events of the past few years calmly, now that the heat of the campaign has subsided. Democracy believes in legitimate expansion, but does not believe in a national land grabbing colonial scheme. True Americans think it as bad to steal from a Filipino, or take his liberty or property by force, as it is to rob and plunder at home. Imperialism claims the virtues of expansion in the same way that the devil uses the livery of heaven to cloak his iniquity. It is an old game that should be exposed and the American people are seeing thru the scheme now and realize that we are not keeping faith with the Cubans or Filipinos.

The Colusa and Yolo papers are discussing the most feasible route for a railroad into Lake county. The Colusa Sun seems to favor the extension of the present road from Sites, while the Yolo Democrat thinks the extension of the Southern Pacific's road from Rumsey would be the thing. Our own opinion, based on considerable knowledge of Lake county, is that the Sites road should be extended into northern Lake, and that a road coming in from the south should tap Lower Lake and proceed south of the lake to Big Valley.

FOR THOUGHTFUL FARMERS.

The lack of interest shown by many of our farmers and land owners in the local creamery enterprise is unaccountable. The annual report of the President of the State Board of Trade, just issued, shows that very few counties in the State produce butter enough for home consumption. It also shows that in money value our dairy products are greater than the value of all the wheat and flour exported from the State, and nearly equal to all the wheat produced. In figuring on the profits of the dairy business, our farmers should not confine their calculations simply to the amount of butter produced, but should consider also the by-products of the business, such as dairy calves and hogs fattened. It is also well understood that keeping cows enriches instead of impoverishing the land. There are other advantageous features that ought to suggest themselves to the thoughtful. It is plain to this writer that every foot of land in this valley which will produce a fair crop of alfalfa ought to be seeded to that king of forage plants and properly stocked with dairy cows. Thirty-one years observation has convinced us that the production of butter and the by-products of the dairy has always paid in California when pursued with anything like reasonable industry and intelligence. It means something staple to sell all the time and that means ready money all the time.

The over worked cooks and waiters of San Francisco have been waiting a long time for that wave of "prosperity." The trouble with the "wave" is that it strikes them below the belt.

Hon. Charles Foster of Ohio, ex-Secretary of the Treasury, is a voluntary bankrupt, with liabilities set down at $747,008 and no assets.

E. Joseph's Jewelry store has just received a fine line of chatelaine bags. Come and see them. tf

SOUTHERN PATRIOTISM.

When, in his magnificent swing around the magnificent circle, President McKinley came to Memphis, it is said that some new ideas found entrance into his inner mental consciousness. In his speeches up to that time he had been shoveling out to the people of the Southland those old chestnuts about there being "no north, no south," since the outbreak of the Spanish war. When this was repeated at Memphis, Congressman Carmack in response surprised the President and the northern contingent of his party by eloquently announcing that since the Confederate flag was finally furled the South had been as truly loyal to the Federal flag as any part of the national domain. The Spanish war did not kindle the fires of patriotism in the southern breast. The flame had been steadily burning there for more than a third of a century; but the call to arms of 1898 was only the first striking opportunity offered them to evince that loyalty in an indisputable way.

And this gives us an opportunity to say that no more patriotic people exist than those of the South. They have always been intensely patriotic, and it was this predominating sentiment that, in 1861, led them to stake their all in defense of what they earnestly considered to be the just cause of their country.

When that cause was lost, and the people began to settle down, they did so with a firm determination to reconstruct the South in true and devoted loyalty to the flag of the whole country. Maligned and misunderstood, they have steadily pressed forward in this course, surmounting difficulties that would have appalled a less brave and patriotic people. The perverse ignorance of the masses of the North with regard to the true spirit of the southern people is almost inexcusable.

A STORY WITH A MORAL.

A man was too stingy, says the Kansas Item, to pay for a newspaper, and as he could not do without it, he sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees, and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His cries reached his father, who ran to his assistance and, failing ro notice a barbed wire fence, ran into it, breaking it down, cutting a handfull of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a four dollar pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence, got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket, the wife ran, upset a four gallon churn full of rich cream into a basket of kittens, drowning the whole flock. In the hurry she dropped a $7 set of false teeth. The baby, being left alone, crawled thru the spilled cream and into the parlor, ruining a bran new $20 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man; the dog broke up eleven setting hens; and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts.

The waiters' strike in San Francisco is becoming serious and unless an agreement is reached in a few days many of the other labor unions will probably take a hand. It looks now like a possibility of a general lockout or strike which will seriously affect the city and state.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call on J. R. Mathews, Druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

Special revival services are in progress in St. John's M. E. Church. On Sunday, 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. and each evening of the week with the exception of Saturday, Rev. Hugh E. Smith of Los Angelos will conduct the services, and Rev. Frank Robinson, the sweet singer for God will aid the work. All are cordially invited.

Subscribers are requested to pay up every year, for that is long enough time in which to pay a bill of only $2.50. *

What The State Is Doing.

The 11th annual report of the State Board of Trade, compiled by General N. P. Chipman, President, giving statistics of production and trade in this state for 1900 is to hand. Of California productions shipped out of the State in 1900, we note the following:

Fruit, carloads of 10 tons	52,901
Wine & brandy "	9,067
Vegetables "	5,140

The total production of butter for 1900 is placed at 28,782,859 pounds and of cheese at 4,989,960 pounds.

The value of the dairy industry for the year was $15,493,272. The product of beet sugar was 30,319 tons. 38,000 bales or 7,220,000 pounds of hops were produced. The wheat crop of 1900 aggregated 973,102 tons. The wool product is estimated at 27,500,000 pounds. The lumber production, all kinds was 650,981,012 feet, an increase of 69,592,117 feet over 1899.

Some idea may be formed of the enormous volume of our exports, when it is stated that to move the exported products of our orchards, vineyards and gardens for the year 1900 required the equivalent of ten trains of 18 cars each, every day in the year and that a car must have been loaded and ready for shipment every 8 minutes. And this takes no account of the wheat, lumber, wool, beet sugar and other products. A striking feature of the figures submitted General Chipman is that the output of the dairy business of the State is $5,000,000 greater in value than all the wheat and flour exported from the State, and still there are very few counties in the State that produce butter enough for home consumption. The value of the mineral products of the State in 1899 was $29,313,460, a substantial increase due largely to copper developments. It will be useful to our readers to study these figures in the light of the past.

Morning topic at Presbyterian church on Sunday; "Heroes and Hero-worship." Evening Topic: "Imperatives of Life." All are cordially invited to these services.

Shasta county stands first in the production of valuable minerals and Nevada county second.

Lake county doubled her mineral production in 1899 over 1898, which is a very good showing.

There are 8 beet sugar factories in California and 9 in Michigan; but the capital invested in them is; $10,139,780 in this state, and $4,013,743 in Michigan. The value of the product in California in 1900 was $3,469,996, and in Michigan $1,602,266.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Baricklo, of Santa Rosa, came up to Ukiah Tuesday night.

An imperative order that all gambling devices in use in Santa Rosa, including nickle-in-the-slot machines, must be removed by May 15th, has been issued.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

The Ruse of a Dad Who Wanted to Read the Paper.

"Play wif me," is the burden of every child's desire, and "Don't bother me" is the answer of almost every dad. Some of the dads compromise, however. Here's what one of them in the champion mean man class did: His 4-year-old daughter wanted him to play with her. He wanted to smoke and read a newspaper.

"We will play school," he said—"kindergarten school, where they do funny things."

The child was delighted and thought that the rest of the programme was for her special amusement. Regardless of the evil effect on her conduct, her father handed her a new pipe and said: "The first class in pipe smoking will come to order. Fill pipes — light — smoke quietly."

The child went through all the motions, not omitting to scratch an imaginary match on the seat of her dress, and then the deluded kid sucked away on the empty pipe for 15 minutes without saying a word and was having fun because she thought she was.

The next trick was meaner yet.

"The teacher," said the father, "will now read aloud, and the class must be very quiet."

Then he read aloud what he had been trying to read to himself—something about the Yaqui Indians—and because she thought she was playing the daughter kept still and finally went to sleep.—New York Sun.

What a Silly Bank!

Cashier—Madam, you've already overdrawn your account.

Lady Client — The idea! A fine bank, I think, to be out of money because of the little I've drawn. I'll go somewhere else.

A Good Hearted Boy.

Mother—Freddy, I hear you got a thrashing in school today.

Freddy — Yes, ma. The teacher whipped me, but he is getting so old and weak that it didn't hurt me much.

Mother—Did you cry?

Freddy—Oh, yes; I bawled so you could have heard it in the next street.

Mother—Why did you do that?

Freddy—I wanted to make the old man feel happy once more.—Tit-Bits.

To Be Expected.

Towne — Hear about Goldman? He had picked out a fine site for his new suburban residence, made all his plans and was just about to buy the land when some other fellow sneaked in and bought it. He's simply crazy about it.

Browne—I should think he would be crazy. "Out of site, out of mind," you know.—Philadelphia Press.

Easily Figured Out.

"Yes, he's a big dog," remarked the visitor. "What do you value him at, Uncle Si?"

"Well," said Farmer Si, making a brief mental calculation, "I reckon he's worth altogether about $25.01."

"Why do you tack on the cent?"

"Well, he's got a $25 young Cotswold sheep in him that he ate last night."—Chicago Tribune.

The Lawyer Got It.

Brown—So you lost your lawsuit with Smith?

Jones—Yes; but it's a satisfaction to know that Smith didn't win anything.

"But didn't you have to pay him $1,000 damages?"

"Yes; but his lawyer got that."—Philadelphia Record.

Isn't He Terrible?

Mrs. Browne—Doesn't Mr. Johnson go to church?

Mrs. Malaprop—No, indeed. He doesn't believe in no church.

Mrs. Browne—You don't tell me!

Mrs. Malaprop—Yes, he don't believe in nothin. He's reg'lar acrostic.—Philadelphia Press.

Everything in Readiness.

"No," said the eminent detective, "we have not yet captured the criminal, but we have written his confession for him."

And he stalked away with a Hawkshaw tread which filled the beholders with awe and admiration.—Baltimore American.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Some Queer Signs on a Terre Haute Office Door.

When Russell B. Harrison, son of the late Benjamin Harrison, presided over the affairs of the Terre Haute Electric Street Railway company several years ago, he had a sign painted to hang up on his office door, which on one side read:

HARRISON IN

And on the other:

HARRISON OUT

By this means Mr. Harrison's callers were saved the trouble of making inquiries.

The road finally went into the hands of Joshua Jump, as receiver. Mr. Jump followed the businesslike methods of Mr. Harrison and had his own name substituted for that of the late president of the road. When he was in his office, the sign on the door bore the inscrption:

JUMP IN

And when he was away his visitors governed themselves by this notice:

JUMP OUT

About two years ago the road was sold to a Boston syndicate and C. B. Kidder became the general manager. Now when he is at his office the card bears the cheering announcement:

KIDDER IN

And it casts a gloom on the caller when he sees the other side:

KIDDER OUT

—Chicago Journal.

How Grant Broke the Mule.

Major A. J. Watrous, U. S. A., tells in the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post several good stories of General Grant when he was a lieutenant in the Mexican war. One is a mule story. He tried a detail of men and many ropes, but the mule got the better of the experiment. Then this happened:

"Returning, he gave orders to take the next victim to the large rock. It was backed as close to the obstruction as possible without actually touching it. Half a dozen men were told to hold the brute by the head, ears and neck and on no account to let it advance from the rock. Then a man was told to clap a harness on quickly. As soon as the buckles began to fasten the mule became restless. Pretty soon it made a sudden lunge and succeeded in getting four feet away from the rock, and then the fun began. Its heels cracked against the rock savagely for a short time. It was a new experience and apparently a painful one, for the battered hind feet were lifted again and again, but very gently and only one at a time, while its head shook and ears flopped. The mule was cured, and the problem was solved. The detail returned to camp late that evening, having accomplished its mission—taken the kick out of a drove of as unmanageable mules as ever hauled port and hard tack."

The Colonel Was Embarrassed.

Colonel A. K. McClure has stood on many platforms, has addressed assemblies large and small, political, social and religious. He is noted for his self command under any circumstances, but on one occasion he was distinctly embarrassed and ill at ease.

On this occasion Colonel McClure was the chief speaker at a large assembly, the audience being made up mainly of farmers or other persons who had driven to the place of meeting. In the midst of an eloquent speech it began to rain. One after another of his hearers jumped up and hurried out until the speaker was left with an array of empty benches before him.

Colonel McClure's face flushed crimson. He had said not a word that could give offense, and he naturally failed to understand the sudden leavetaking. But his embarrassment was quickly changed to amusement when the chairman arose and said:

"It's all right, colonel. They're only going out to look after the horses. They'll be back pretty soon."

The orator sat down until the farmers returned and then resumed his speech.—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.
